Thos. S. Rhea.

While there is no lack of heat in the gubernatorial race, it must be noted that there is apparently no bitterness being displayed in any of the other races. Nothing has occurred recently calculated to disturb party harmony. In firing their opening guns, Mr. Stanley, candidate for governor, and Thos. S. Rhea, candidate for Auditor, took a shot at each other, but both have evidently concluded that personal quarrels will not pay in the long run. As a matter of fact, the ticket as made up will in all probability not be all of one faction of the party. Mr. Stanley will be nominated for governor and the indications are that Mr. Rhea will win for Auditor. At any rate the McDermott vote in Louisville will be thrown to him and this would seem to assure his nomination. It is believed that Mr. Rhea is reconciled to the nomination of Mr. Stanley and that Stanley realizes that Rhea's friends will be needed to elect the ticket in November. In other words, a ticket containing the leaders of both factions, would have elements of strength that a ticket made up of one faction would not possess. Mr. Stanley will carry Christian county by a large majority and the fact is apparent that many of his friends are going to vote for Tom Rhea. Being a near neighbor and personally very popular, Mr. Rhea has a large personal following, including many of the most influential Democrats in the county. These are looking after his interests assiduously, and are confidently claiming that the county will give Rhea as large a majority as it does Stanley.

Claude S. Terrell, candidate for treasurer, formerly Speaker of the House, in another department of the Kentuckian to-day, reprints a compilation of the endorsements he has received from the state press and the aggregate endorsement is one of which he has a right to be justly proud. Mr. Terrell has long been a party leader of wide influence. He has twice been Speaker of the House and has filled with much credit other positions of trust and honor. No one doubts his fitness for the position he seeks and his wide acquaintance all over the state is counting largely in his favor. His genial personality has made fast friends and few enemies and his race was well in hand before his opponent entered.

TERRIBLE CHARGE

Ignorance the Cause of Eighty Per Cent. of Babies' Deaths In This State.

FILTH ALSO CLAIMS SHARE

Preventable Diseases Kill Forty-Two In Every One Hundred People.

Frankfort, Ky., July 28.—Profligacy, worse than race suicide, in the waste of human life and money, that costs one infant in every twelve born in Kentucky each year, and takes a toll of one out of every seven before they reach school age, is the charge against the Commonwealth summed up in the report of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health for 1914, now in the hands of the State printers.

This is not all; this infant mortality is due—80 per cent. of it, the report says—to lack of care and attention to the kind of food and water given them. Diarrhoea carried off in 1914, 1,342 children under 2 years old out of a total of 5,304, while diphtheria and croup accounted for 488 of all ages; scarlet fever for 55; measles, despised ailment of childhood, 266; whooping cough, often treated as a joke, 362, and tuberculosis, grip and bronchial pneumonia claimed their annual percentage of the population.

A FILTH DISEASE.

Typhoid, a filth disease, brought down 38,530 persons in Kentucky, of whom 1,069 died, as compared to 792 the year before, 998 in 1912 and 994 in 1911. There were 49,080 cases of adult diarrhoea reported, with 2,454 deaths resulting. Aside from the sorrow and misery occasioned, the financial sacrifice to sloth is estimated in the report at $7,000,000 for the year, chargeable for the most part to lack of sewage disposal facilities on the farm and in town.

Tuberculosis of the lungs, entrenched in ignorance, holds its own against the effort of community organization and has to its credit for the year 4,251 deaths, as against 4,116 in 1913, 4,259 in 1912 and 4,625 in 1911. Other forms of tuberculosis practically double the total number of deaths attributable to the stealthy progress of this germ.

KENTUCKY, OH, KENTUCKY!

Comparative figures makes it worse. The death rate from tuberculosis in Kentucky is 201.8 in every 100,000 of population. In the whole United States the death rate is 128.6. So Kentucky loses from tuberculosis annually seventy-three more to the 100,000 of population than the country from all causes.

In every 100 deaths in the State in 1914 preventable diseases caused forty-two and half the sickness reported. It cost the people of Kentucky in round numbers in 1914 just $25,000,000 for their snug contentment under these conditions, and the report suggests that if the tax rate had to be doubled and redoubled to revolutionize conditions of living money would be saved.

COL. HOWELL'S GREAT HIT

Tickled Indiana Ears With Some Sure Enough Oratory.

Mr. R. E. Cooper returned Thursday night from a trip over the Dixie Bee Line highway north of Ohio. He is one of the officials to locate the route. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed all along the route, nearly every farm house having out flags and banners.

Col. Bill Howell went with Mr. Cooper and his speeches created a sensation all the way from Evansville to Danville. A banquet was given in his honor at Evansville Thursday night. He made a great reputation for oratory all along the line.

INSTITUTE AUGUST 2ND

County Teachers Will All Have To Attend The Session.

IN McLEAN COLLEGE CHAPEL

Prof. M. O. Leiper, of Bowling Green, Will Be In Charge.

The Christian County Teachers Institute for all the white teachers in the county, will be held for a week at the McLean College building, starting on next Monday.

Prof. M. A. Leiper, of Bowling Green, will be the instructor in charge of the institute. He will be helped in his work by many other able speakers and teachers.

The attendance at the institute is compulsory and all who either hold county certificates or expect to obtain them in the fall must be present at all the sessions of the institute. The only excuses that will be accepted are sickness or absence to attend some other summer school. Supt. L. E. Foster has been greatly impressed with the importance of the work done by the institute and for this reason is making every effort to have all the county teachers in regular attendance.

TURNER CASE GOES OVER

Four Defendants Arraigned But Main Offender Not In Custody.

When the examining trial of Joe Pool, Wesley Stewart, Emmett McCargo and Floyd Cook, who had been arrested on a warrant sworn out by Otis Turner claiming that they had beaten him at a moonlight picnic, was called this morning, a large number of people thronged the court room. Judge Knight called the case in the Circuit Court Chamber to accommodate the crowd. People had come in from the Sinking Fork and Bainbridge sections of the county.

On a motion of the commonwealth the case was postponed until August 12th.

The commonwealth asked for more time on the grounds that Will English, the alleged leader of the band, had not yet been arrested and his presence was necessary at the trial.

DOUGLAS HANCOCK STEALS A MARCH

Wires From Baltimore That He Will Bring Home a Bride.

A telegram was received Wednesday by Mrs. T. R. Hancock, stating that her son, Mr. Douglas Hancock, and Mrs. Beatrice Gibbs were married at noon on that day by an Episcopal minister in Baltimore.

Mr. Hancock left the first of the month for a visit to Richmond. Some of his friends here had been told of his coming marriage. No formal announcements of the wedding have been received here yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Hancock will take a short bridal trip and return here on Tuesday. They will take rooms at Hotel Latham temporarily.

The bride is an attractive young lady who has many friends in this city. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Hancock and is a prominent young tobacco dealer.

WHAT ONE WOMAN DID

Mrs. H. E. Bacon Organizes Good Roads Association While on a Visit.

TO BUILD 3 MILES OF PIKE

Roaring Spring Determines to Get Out of The Mud Before Winter.

Mrs. Hillary A. Bacon, wife of a prominent business man and bank president at Evansville, while on a visit to relatives at Roaring Spring this week, "started something" that will cause her to be long remembered. Mrs. Bacon enjoys the distinction of having put a bill through the Indiana legislature reforming tenement laws and she knows how to accomplish results. Last week she called a meeting of the citizens of the Roaring Spring neighborhood to consider good roads. On account of a funeral, this meeting was postponed until Wednesday of this week, when it was held. Assembled under the trees at Roaring Spring, the people were addressed by Mrs. Bacon and were aroused to a pitch of enthusiasm seldom seen in a small village. Mrs. Bacon pictured the blessings and advantages of good roads and showed the people how easy it would be for them to get out of the mud by connecting with the nearest turnpike at the Christian county line, only three miles. At the psychological moment she proposed the organization, then and there, of a Good Roads Association to build the turnpike. Col. W. W. Lewis, who served in the Constitutional convention from Trig County, objected on the ground that the procedure was not parliamentary.

Some one called out to Mrs. Bacon to go ahead, that anything she wanted to do was parliamentary enough for them.

And she did go ahead. She drew up a pledge for money and teams and in a very short while had several hundred dollars and teams enough to keep the work going all summer. Some one got up and threw cold water on the project by saying the pike would run towards Hopkinsville in another county. "All right," said Mrs. Bacon, "we'll scratch your name off if you are dissatisfied. We are trying to get to the nearest turnpike." "No, no, I didn't mean that," was the protest. "Hold on, I'll double my subscription and stay on." And he did stay on and everybody got on the list and Roaring Spring is going to get a pike and get it at once.

There is a good turnpike from Hopkinsville to Pee Dee, and from Pee Dee to the county line is an old pike road in fairly good condition. This will of course be improved by Christian county and the people along the road.

There is plenty of rock close by and plenty of gravel in the river bed near at hand. Trig county has appropriated $200 and this will be supplemented by the cash subscribed and work will start without delay. Dr. H. L. J. Hille was Mrs. Bacon's right hand man in the movement, offering to give double as much as any other man subscribed.

The day's work not only shows what a progressive community can do, but it shows as well what one woman can do to arouse public enterprise and enthusiasm.

TWO MEN EXECUTED

Hardin County Farmer And Negro Paid Penalty at Eddyville.

Eddyville, Ky., July 30.—Two men convicted of murder, paid the extreme penalty Friday morning at the Eddyville prison in the first double electrocution held in the state.

Turner Graham, 24, a Hardin county farmer, died in the chair for the murder of Sheriff R. J. McMurry last December.

Will Layne, a negro, of Bell county, was sentenced for the murder of his wife.

Graham shot and killed McMurry as the latter attempted to arrest him. He never denied the shooting, but maintained that he fired in the belief that a mob was pursuing him.

Graham, who had been a constant reader of the Bible since incarceration in the death cell, stated that he was prepared for his fate.

WRIT OF SUPERSEDEAS

Injunction Restraining Commissioners From Electing Successors to Mayor.

Nashville, Tenn., July 30.—Judge Wilson of the Tennessee court of civil appeals, granted a writ of superseadeas, setting aside Chancellor Allen's recent order appointing a receiver from the city of Nashville.

A receiver was appointed on Tuesday, following allegations of bad management and irregularities on the part of certain officials in the administration of the city's affairs. The city's credit is said to be in no way involved.

Judge Wilson also laid aside the injunction restraining the city commissioners from electing successors to the mayor and other officials who were ousted by circuit court order.

He instructed the commissioners to fill the vacancies as directed by law. He declared there was no authority in law for the appointment of a receiver.

RUSSIANS TO FALL BACK

Policy Outlined By "Competent Military Authorities."

WARSAW TO BE EVACUATED

Country To Be Denuded of Military Resources For Enemy.

London July 30.—There are signs that momentous events are happening around Warsaw. If the evacuation of the Polish capital had already begun, it is believed in many quarters that the withdrawal of the Russians is not far off. At various points in Poland the Russians continue to check the Austro-Germans in their efforts to encircle Warsaw, but the consensus of views of the military critics of the Petrograd newspapers seems to point to the fear that the Russians will not long be able to keep back the tremendous pressure of the Teutonic Allies.

It is pointed out, however, by the Russian military critics, after conversations with "competent military authorities," that until the army is properly equipped to oppose the perfect Austro-German machine the sensible thing to do would be to avoid battle and withdraw until the armies are organized and equipped and in a condition to take an aggressive and drive out the enemy from Russian soil.

Politics, rather than strategy, decided the Russians to advance into East Prussia and Galicia, it is explained by the critics, and while in doing so they rendered great service to the Western Allies and inflicted terrible losses on both Austrians and Germans, they may now give up all and more than they gained.

It is anticipated by the Petrograd papers that the whole country, if evacuated, will be denuded of resources which might prove valuable to the Germans as has been done in most of the territory heretofore given up.

The capture of Warsaw naturally would be made the occasion for great celebrations in Germany, and it is reported that Emperor William has arranged to make a state entry into the city, accompanied by the Empress. The Empress has been on a visit to Field Marshal von Hindenburg's headquarters at Allenstein, East Prussian, and left there yesterday with the Crown Princess Cecelie for Neidenburg, which is across the Polish border.

Except for the capture of a new German position in the Vosges there has been relative calm on the western front from the sea to Alsace.

A belated report tells of a recent defeat of the Turks by the British near Nasiriyeh, Asiatic Turkey, in which the Ottoman forces lost 2,500 men in killed, wounded or prisoners and large supplies of war material. The British casualties were 564 men, 101 having been killed and the others reported as wounded or missing.

Adairville is to celebrate the killing of a man in a novel way, as the following dispatch explains: "A bronze statue of Andrew Jackson is to be erected here in the park in the central business area of the city by the Jackson memorial club, which was recently organized. The club also contemplates building a boulevard to the spot where the Jackson and Dickerson duel was fought, which is about one mile and a half from town. The scene of the duel will be converted into a public park and made as attractive as practicable."

A trained Maltese cat, which in the twenty-three years of its life traveled throughout North and South America and Europe, and which for nine years earned $30 a week as performer in the Ringling circus, is dead in Memphis. The cat was owned by Mrs. Anita Harbaugh, once known as the "circus queen," who for seven or eight months has been an inmate of the home for incurables. She is an invalid as a result of a fall from a flying trapeze in the Ringling show nine years ago, which injured her back and superinduced locomotor ataxia.

In announcing his candidacy for Senator to oppose Senator Luke Lea, Congressman Sims says: "Our senior senator was elected by a fusion of democrats and republicans without party nomination or indorsement of any kind. By such fusion of democrats with republican members of the legislature he was able to defeat the regular democratic nominee for senator, the Hon. Benton McMillin. I have never known of an instance where the direct and immediate beneficiary of party disruption and defeat has been rewarded by subsequent party approval and indorsement." This statement at least puts Senator Lea on the defensive in a Democratic primary where many of his friends will have no votes.

Duet and Iron in the Appendix. That foreign bodies in the appendix are often the initial cause of appendicitis is a long-explored idea; that is, so far as bodies of any size are concerned. But Dr. Carlo Savini of New York reports to the Medical Record that in many cases very minute sharp foreign bodies are found in that organ and, in some cases at least, were probably the cause of the initial lesion. Doctor Savini has recovered from appendices microscopic particles which prove on chemical analysis to be silvers of coal containing a small quantity of iron, sometimes with very sharp cutting edges.

LANGUAGE MODIFIED BY WAR

Most Pedantic Purists Find Themselves Unable to Avoid the Changing Metaphors.

Language, like almost everything else, is unable to escape from being conditioned and modified by war. Half our best metaphors are taken from war as it used to be, and we still talk of nations "taking the sword," though that is just what they never do, when "moving the howitzer" would be vastly more appropriate.

Modern artillery has forced us to make a verb out of a noun and to permit our gunners to "shell" a place in defiance of all conceivable rules of grammar. We have forced "offensive" and "objective" to do duty as nouns in spite of the fact that they are plain and indubitable adjectives, and we freely "bombard," though it would be quite as reasonable for a pillow fighter to say he "pillowed."

Perhaps the most curious thing in this connection is the way in which we have been driven back upon the old verb "flee." Before the era of the Zeppelin and the aeroplane we should certainly have said "the German fleet 'flies' before the British;" now we say it "flees," because "flying" seems to connote motion above the surface of the earth. There are a hundred subtle differences of this sort to which war has impelled us, and from which the most pedantic purist is totally unable to escape.

CLEARLY A FARMING STATE

Names of Many of the Streams That Flow Through Iowa Seem to Demonstrate Fact.

That Iowa is a farming state is reflected in the names of many of the streams that flow through it. First there is a Farm creek, so that Farmers creek is not out of place; then there is a Chicken creek, a Duck creek, a Goose creek, a number of Turkey creeks, as well as Pigeon creek. There are Fox, Hawk, and Rat creeks to devour the domestic animals, and some Crow creeks, while there are also a Fly creek and Mosquito creek to worry the summer boarders. Milk and Cold Water creeks are present, likewise a Hog run and a Mud creek, so that Bacon creek is not strange. It is fitting that with a Bee creek and a Bee branch there should also be a Honey creek. There are a couple of Cherry creeks, a Crabapple creek, and plenty of Plum creeks, and for the wild animals we have Bear, Beaver, Buck, Crane, Deer, Doe, Elk, Otter, Panther, Raccoon, Skunk and Wolf creeks. With a Keg creek there is a Whisky creek and a Whisky run. Finally, there is a Purgatory creek.

Democratic Editors See Victory for Claude B. Terrell In Race for Nomination for State Treasurer In August Primary Election.

If there is one contest in the approaching Democratic State primary election about which the Democratic newspapers of Kentucky seem to be agreed it is that the Hon. Claude B. Terrell, of Trimble County, should and will be nominated for the office of State Treasurer. Mr. Terrell has made a runaway race of it from the day he entered the contest. His especial fitness for the office he is seeking has appealed to the Democratic editors of every section of Kentucky, and they have done much to mold the sentiment of their communities in his favor by informing the people as to the character of the man and his qualifications for public service. Herewith are quoted brief paragraphs taken from editorials of newspapers published in every section of Kentucky. It would require not less than two pages of a newspaper to publish in full these unsolicited words of commendation of Mr. Terrell and his candidacy:

The Calloway Times: He has served three terms in the Legislature, two as Speaker, and is a clean, fair-minded, sober and discreet man. He will poll a splendid vote in this county next month.

The Ballard County Advance: Mr. Terrell is a man well equipped for this important office and will make a splendid official. He is a man you like better the more you see him.

Paducah News-Democrat: He is a substantial business man, and is held in the highest esteem by all who know him, and has many friends in this section of Kentucky who will give him their support.

The Princeton Leader: While here Mr. Terrell met a large number of our people and made a very favorable impression. He is well equipped from an official standpoint to fill the office of State Treasurer.

Fulton Daily Leader: He is a staunch Democrat, is familiar with the public affairs of the State by virtue of his commanding position the past few years in the legislature and is well fitted in every way to make the people of Kentucky a faithful State Treasurer and guardian of the funds of the commonwealth.

Clinton Gazette: Mr. Terrell has made a reputation as a man who is to be depended upon to do exactly what he promises to do.

Arlington Courier: A better man cannot be found for this place. He is self-made, public spirited, and a friend to the working man.

Mayfield Messenger: He is a great friend to education and a constant fighter for good roads. With him as State Treasurer the people can be assured that the affairs of that office will be conducted honestly and according to law.

Bowling Green Times-Journal: Mr. Terrell will add strength to the ticket selected next month, and it is gratifying to know that his nomination is a certainty.

Bowling Green News: The press of the state is loud in its praise of him as a Democrat, a high-class gentleman and an honorable incorruptible man of fine business and executive ability and one who never has and never will betray a trust either in private or public life.

Todd County Progress: Mr. Terrell enjoys a wide acquaintance in the state, made a splendid Speaker of the House, and is a man of winning personality.

Smith's Grove Times: The county papers over the state are giving Terrell their support, and it is likely that he will carry the state by a larger majority than most candidates.

Cloverport News: He is a man who has made good in all his public trusts. He is a man well equipped for the office he is asking.

Springfield Sun: The manner in which he conducted the affairs of his great trust as Speaker won for him many strong friends over the state, who are now endeavoring to endorse his valuable service.

New Haven Echo: He is of the younger set of business men and possesses the push that has always been lacking in the state, and has been so much needed.

Shepherdsville News: He helped to enact more constructive laws than any other Speaker who has presided over the House in fifty years. He is by far the ablest and strongest man seeking the Treasurership.

Breckenridge News: The Big Sandy News pays a very fine compliment to Claude B. Terrell. The beauty about it is that 'tis true.

CLAUDE B. TERRELL

Kentucky Standard: He has been closely associated with the educational interest of the state for many years, and popular education has no stronger advocate.

Hartford Herald: He is splendidly qualified, as his service in office has brought him close to the interests of the people.

Estill Tribune: He is a conservative business man in whom the people can trust with implicit faith and his loyalty and work for Democratic success entitles him to recognition by the party.

Danville Messenger: Mr. Terrell has gained much strength over the state, especially during the past two weeks, and his nomination seems assured.

Henry County Local: His career has been prominent and noteworthy of the sterling character of this splendid young man. It behooves the Democrats to remember him on election day.

Owenton News-Herald: It should be a pleasure to Owen County Democrats to cast their votes for him. He will make a safe and efficient Treasurer.

Woodford Blue Grass Clipper: None of the candidates are receiving more favorable mention. From every quarter come reports of the great favor in which his candidacy is held.

Too Much Freedom.

"I hate this school! I wish it would burn up!" wrote a boy to his mother from "one of the best preparatory schools in the country." The mother telegraphed: "Why?" and as she waited anxiously for the answer she snatched up books and articles and pondered their criticisms of "narrow academic curricula which fail to hold the child's interest or to fit him for life." Finally the answer came: "I don't like it on account of its spirit of freedom. There's too much old self-government. You can't have any fun. It's too free!" In that boyish pose was something akin to our own occasional attitude of irony. Poor lad! No rules to break; nobody's authority to shatter; no chance for the glorious thrill of comrades with shoulders together to ram against "the system." Only the isolated effort of self-discipline, the lonely heights of liberty. That's the trouble that freedom imposes on all its champions.—The New Republic.

Merely a Hint.

Evelyn had been instructed by her mother not to ask anyone for a penny. A week ago Evelyn was visiting her aunt, and as her aunt opened her purse to take a nickel to use in the telephone Evelyn, slyly glancing in the purse and seeing one lone penny, remarked that she thought pennies were such a nuisance in a big lady's purse.

Well of Hot Mineral Water.

In the Flathead Indian reservation near Camas, Mont., is an artesian well containing hot mineral water, said to be the only one in the world. Around it, within a mile, are other artesian wells in which the water is clear and cool. A few years ago the government threw open the Flathead reservation, and those who were successful in the drawing now own fine ranches in a fertile valley. Artesian wells have been struck there at a depth ranging from 90 to 365 feet. In the summer of 1913, on a ranch within a mile of one of these cold wells, drillers were at work when, at the depth of 244 feet, hot water gushed upward with such force that the drillers were forced to flee. In a few days the rush of hot water had washed a large bore, with the drill still in, though incapacitated. The well was finally curbed so that it could be used. The water is 120 Fahrenheit, flowing at the rate of sixty barrels a minute.

IDEAS BORN IN THE WEST

San Francisco Newspaper Thinks Little of Imagination Displayed by the East.

Like so many western ideas, the jitney is gradually making its way eastward. It has reached Philadelphia, it is an issue in Washington, it is dipping its tires in the surf at Atlantic City. The East never had imagination enough to invent such a simple matter as the jitney.

The jitney is merely an illustration. There are no new ideas of any kind in the East, except ideas among a limited circle concerning ways of getting people's money away from them. The West is America's great idea factory. The West can invent and popularize everything necessary from the jitney to the judicial recall. The East is classic, the West romantic; the East is tory, the West liberal; the East stands pat, the West keeps hopping right along.

New York city is not the nation's literary, artistic and musical center; it merely happens to have its hands on money enough to buy literature, art and music, which is quite a different thing. The New York idea ought to be dethroned. Why should New York pass on our plays and our books and our public policies when it hasn't sense enough even to invent a jitney? New York ought to get down on its knees and thank heaven that there is a West to furnish the salt to give it such savor as it has.—San Francisco Bulletin.

DECLINE OF TRAGEDY

"What's become of your friend, the tragedian?" "He has gone into moving pictures." "Posing?" "No; taking tickets."

SIMPLE MATTER.

"So you are in the market for an automobile?" "Yes," answered the man who likes to attract attention. "Any particular make?" "No. I merely want one that will make people turn round and stare at me when I pass." "Oh, you don't need a special type for that. Get an ordinary car and exceed the speed limit."

DIFFERENT NOW.

"The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world," quoted the moralizer. "The cradle-rocking stunt is a back number," rejoined the demoralizer. "The hand that used to do it now aspires to starting rough houses and casting ballots."

A ROUGH ROUTE.

"Did you find out what the steamship fare is?" "Yes; $64.80." "Meals thrown in, of course?" "Yes, but not guaranteed to stay."

THEIR HABIT.

"The locomotive engineers' association has adopted a resolution endorsing suffrage." "I suppose they railroaded it."

AN EXCEPTION.

"Are footnotes always at the bottom of the page, pa?" "Not if the book happens to be a treatise on chiropody, my son."

A LONG ONE.

"The very narrow skirts have gone out of style." "Well, that enables fashion to take a good step forward."

THE MODERN TYPE.

"Pa, what is a tenderfoot?" "Nowadays, my son, it's a Westerner with a bank roll trying to

ROAD BUILDING

POOR ROADS ARE EXPENSIVE

More Fuss Over Freight Rates Than Cost of Hauling Crops From Farm to Railroad.

A good deal of fuss is raised over freight rates, and everybody who has anything to do with the transportation of crops or merchandise is up in arms the moment railroads give the least intimation that freight rates are to be advanced. But at the same time, there is a strong tendency to give no attention to the cost of hauling farm crops from their point of origin on the farm to the railroad station; a matter of greater concern than all the railroad rates in the world, says Fruit Grower and Farmer.

Uncle Sam has found that it costs in the neighborhood of 25 cents a mile to haul a ton over the average country road. But this cost may run up to ten times this figure over bad roads, and be reduced as many times over good roads with modern vehicles.
This cost is something that is rarely ever figured in by the producer when summing up his marketing expense, even though it will frequently make a figure that is not much less than the cost of getting his produce to the distant market by rail.

Good roads are expensive to build and are more or less of an expense to maintain, but if it were possible to compare the lowered cost of transporting the farm produce over the road before and after improvement it would be found that the cost was paid back with interest within a very few years after improvement. Low grades are of first consideration, for it costs more money to haul over a hilly road than over a level one, where the surface is the same. But on almost any road, it is easily possible to have at least a smooth surface on which to drive.

The King drag is the implement that will make the surface smooth and keep it smooth. And the wonder of it is that more farms do not have a drag as an essential part of their equipment. Road dragging time is just coming with the breaking up of the snow, and its usual accompaniment of mud. Heavy traffic over such roads makes ruts and bad roads of the worst sort, unless the ruts are filled by dragging. Prepare now to keep your road dragged this year, and lower the cost of hauling your produce to market.

Remember, also, that wide-tired wagons pull more easily than narrow-tired ones 90 per cent of the times

Example of Mountain Road Building in Colorado.

when they are used. The wide tire does not cut so deep and makes a better track on roads which are traveled while the ground is soft. The wide tire packs the surface into a firm roadbed, and thus enables it to drain well in time of rain.

In cornfields, plowed fields, field lanes, and on pasture and alfalfa land, the draft on the wide tire is considerably less, no matter what the condition of the soil. The wide tire does not cut up the meadow or field as does the narrow tire. This is also important, as a smooth surface in the meadow is much easier to mow over.

Use no tire less than four inches on your fields or on soft roads; make a King road drag and use it. Thus lower your own freight rates by lowering your hauling costs.

Keep Weeds Away.
Weeds must be kept several feet from the wheeltrack else they will draw the moisture from the roadbed and thus loosen it, this is especially true in regions of moderate rainfall

Your Roads.
How about that road in front of your farm? Did you get out with a split log and smooth it down at the right time? Did you fill up the low places? Take a little self-pride in the road that runs in front of your farm and see that it is in good shape for yourself and your neighbor.

Road-Building Habit.
The road-building habit is confined to no one locality. It has a foothold in 48 states. All classes take to it.

Old Lady's Sage Advice.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Mrs. Mamie Towe, of 102 W. Main Street, this city, says: "If you had seen me before I began to take Cardul you wouldn't think I was the same person.
Six doctors failed to do me any good,
and my friends thought I would die.
I could hardly get out of bed or walk a step. At last an old lady advised me take Cardul; and now I can go most anywhere." All ailing women need Cardul, as a gentle, refreshing tonic, especially adapted to their peculiar ailments. It is a reliable, vegetable remedy, successfully used for over 50 years. You ought to try it.

Eastern Scrub Pine.
A Lazarus of the forest is the eastern scrub pine, also called Jersey pine, a small, puny tree of poor and pitiful form, willing to subsist on the "crumbs" that fall from the table of others. It grows in New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and farther south and west. It creeps into open spaces, and is the companion of sassafras and huckleberry bushes.
Old, worn-out gullied fields appeal to this pine, because little else will grow there, and it is not obliged to fight for room. In course of time, however, as the impoverished soil begins to recover, broad-leaf seedlings come in. As these increase in size, the scrub-pines die, and finally disappear.
Though they have been in full possession of the ground, they are unable to hold it against competitors.

Making a Changeless Ink.
In shops where it is damp or chemical fumes are present it is usually difficult to cause labels to stick to bottles or cans. An ink for use on such containers is made as follows: Shellac, 20 grams; dissolve it in a hot solution of borax containing 30 grams of borax to 400 cubic centimeters of water; filter white hot and add a solution made of aniline black 8 grams, tanum 0.3
gram, picric acid 0.1 gram and amonia 15 grams, in water 10 grams. It will be found that this ink works nicely and resists the usual chemical and corrosive fumes.

FURNISH SWINE PURE WATER

Hogs Do Not Drink Out of Filthy Pools as Matter of Choice—Indiana Incident is Related.

We have heard men argue that hogs do not require pure water since they exhibit their disregard in this matter by commonly drinking out of filthy pools. It is not improbable that a hog or a herd may become so degenerate in its habits as to pay no attention to the supply of their drinking water.
But this degeneracy, or what else you may name it, is not a matter of environment, says a writer in Farmers' Review. Hogs do not differ from other animals in adapting themselves to their surroundings. In fact it is one of the laws of nature that a species which can best adapt itself to varying conditions stands the best chance to survive. The hog accepts filthy water when there is nothing better. After a while he loses his taste for pure water.
Our remarks on this subject are prompted by the following incident reported by one of our Indiana readers:
This man had been in the habit of allowing his herd of hogs to secure water from a more or less muddy creek.
On account of the prevalence of disease on a farm above him he decided to provide water for the herd with a hog fountain. In hauling the fountain to its position in the pasture he had to cross the creek and in getting to this point a number of hogs out of curiosity had followed. They continued to follow him across the creek and to the final location of the fountain, where they drank to their full when the water was turned into the drinking places.

CARE IN FEEDING BROOD SOW

Wisconsin Station Secures Satisfactory Results From Corn, Wheat Middlings and Alfalfa.

On farms where many kinds of grain are grown there should be little or no difficulty in providing a suitable ration. For several years mature brood sows in the Wisconsin experiment station herd have been fed rations composed of one-third corn, one-third wheat middlings and one-third wheat bran or alfalfa. Such feeds are satisfying and bulky and at the same time sufficiently nutritious to cause the sows to gain from fifty to seventy-five pounds in live weight during pregnancy. A mixture of equal parts, by weight, of the feeds mentioned, fed in the form of a thick slop, is always very satisfactory. This insures an equal proportion and distribution of the various feeds and is relaxed by the animals. The corn may be fed on the ear and the alfalfa need

Healthy and Vigorous Type.

not be cut, and the rest of the ration should be given as a thick slop.

Brood sows weighing from 300 to 350 pounds usually can be kept on one of the above rations for about $1.50 a month.

If you live in a section where these can be grown, sugar beets or giant half-sugar mangels may be used to form the bulky portion of the ration and to replace the bran. The sugar beets or mangels can be cut up and fed raw or may be cooked and with middlings and other meal made into a thick slop. Soy beans kept on the vine make excellent winter feed for swine. They can be stacked in or near the hog lot in the fall and fed out as needed. The hogs will get abundant exercise working over the pile of vines in search of the beans.

GUARD AGAINST HOG CHOLERA

Where Farmer Wishes to Increase His Herd He Should Buy Animals
From Uninfected Territory.

(By M. H. REYNOLDS, Minnesota Experiment Station.)

A farmer living in uninfected territory and who wishes to increase his herd should do so if possible by raising his own stock or buying from the immediate neighborhood where he can be sure there has been no cholera.
There can be no assurance of entire safety to the neighborhood if hogs are shipped in any stock car or pass through any stockyards or have had any real serum-virus treatment. "Doctored" virus is being sent out by some commercial firms. This is safe if sufficiently "doctored," but it is of no use so far as conferring immunity is concerned.

Little Things Count.
It's the little things that count.
Save and care well for the lambs, calves and pigs, and the country will not long be short of cattle, sheep and hogs; neither will the farmer who cares for them be short of dollars.

SISTER LIVES IN HOPKINSVILLE

Sad Fate of Young Man Well Known In This City.

William Paul, brother of Mrs. Owen Keelor, of this city, was drowned in Cumberland river at Clarksville Tuesday evening. He was in the employ of the L. & N. railroad as shipping clerk in the Clarksville office and was 22 years old. The body was shipped to Michigan for interment.

Becker Executed.

Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, twice convicted for instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, died in the electric chair early yesterday morning. His wife failed to move Governor Whitman to commute his sentence to life imprisonment. This Mrs. Becker asked of the governor at Poughkeepsie. Failing in her mission, she motored to Sing Sing to break the news to her husband, but it had already reached him before she arrived.

Becker, it was said, had not expected clemency. Almost at the moment the news was received the prisoner gave out a letter he had written to Governor Whitman attacking the executive for having, as he indicated, given to the newspapers statements which cast a "foul aspersion on my character" and for which he demanded a retraction.

In this letter, Becker again reiterated his innocence of the crime for which he has been convicted.

"To these charges and to all others, I answer," the letter read, "by repeating solemnly, on the brink of the world to which you are sending me before my time, what was my constant answer while in the world; I am innocent as you are of murdered of Herman Rosenthal, or of having counseled, procured or aided his murder, or having any knowledge of that dreadful crime."

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hord, of Memphis, are on a visit to Mrs. J. G. Hord.

Mrs. C. N. Fox and children have returned from a visit to relatives in the county.

James Williams, of Louisville, is here on a short visit to his father. His family accompanied him and will spend some time with Mrs. Williams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Green-wade, near Beverly.

Taking Journey of Eradication.
In the Woman's Home Companion a contributor tells about a little journey of eradication which she recently took through her own house. A journey of eradication consists of going through the house and throwing away what is useless and in the way. First she discovered three calendars where one would suffice. Most of her hircabrae, the loot of many Christmases and birthdays, when looked at impartially, appeared like so many tombstones for dead emotions. Further explorations resulted in the dismissal of some of her husband's belongings. This caused some irritation, but not so much as might be imagined. Altogether the suggestion, as exhibited by this woman's own experience, is mighty interesting and thought provoking.

LOCAL W. C. T. U. ENDORSES McCHESNEY

Because of their faith in his integrity and ability, and because he is an honorable, fearless, God-fearing and Christian man, the local Women's Christian Temperance Union at a recent meeting passed very strong resolutions endorsing the Hon. H. V. McCaskey for Governor of Kentucky in the coming November election.

He has pronounced himself unequivocally, fearlessly, and beyond contradiction for State-wide prohibition, and is the only candidate who has done so. As this question will be presented to the next legislature, and as the Governor, by virtue of his office, will have large influence, the local Women's Christian Temperance Union hopes to see him elected. The United Temperance force is for a final victory for State-wide prohibition in Kentucky.

WOMAN CRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. P. W. LANSING, Box 8, Allyn, Wash.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

RESOLUTIONS.

To the family of Mrs. William Jesup: The Christian County Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy wish to express their sympathy with the recent loss of the devoted wife, mother and grandmother. The Chapter appreciates the fact that Mrs. Jesup was from the beginning an earnest and interested member, and as long as her health permitted, a regular attendant. Nothing that was undertaken by the Chapter lacked her sympathy and support.

In this time of grief each individual member offers condolence and hopes that the remaining years of her lonely companion may be brightened as much as possible.

This is not a formal resolution but an expression from the chapter of heartfelt sympathy and regret.

Newsy Letter of The Cheap Land In Mississippi Valley.

FUTURE OF DELTA COUNTRY

Bound To Become a Great Agricultural Section In Few Years.

Editor Kentuckian:— I promised various parties in Christian county to write them and give them my views of the Delta Country, and if you will permit me to use the columns of the Kentuckian I will write them all at one time. What I may say I hope will be of sufficient interest to justify you in publishing this letter.

I think it is generally known that I have traveled all over the North American continent, from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Alaska to Panama and in my travels I have always kept out an "observation eye" and my ears unstopped. I have ever tried to study the conditions in all parts of the continent. For years it has been my intention to purchase a farm, a ranch or a plantation and naturally I was on the lookout for the most desirable location. The fact that I located in the Delta of Mississippi, shows that I thought this section offered the greatest opportunity. The soil in this section is probably the richest in the world, the valley of the Nile not excepted, and yet land is cheaper here than the poorest hillside in the North. The improved land can be purchased for less than it cost to clear the land, saying nothing of the other improvements. This seems incredible, but it is as true as gospel nevertheless. There is a reason for it. Cotton has been the exclusive crop and the negroes the only labor. Here the plantation owner, as a rule, lives in the cities and hires a manager to oversee the negroes on the plantations: This will explain largely why cotton only has been grown. The negroes cannot eat cotton and it is hard for them to slice it and get away with it. Corn and other grain could be easily appropriated by the negroes. Very few plantations have any fruit of any kind for the same reason. Hogs and poultry have not been raised for the same reason. Only negroes hire on the plantations, as a general rule, and the owner will not raise any crop which can be left on the place. As a rule, plantations are parceled out to the negroes, 20 acres to the negro family and one mule. The proprietor owns the mule and the negroes get half the crop, and are always in debt at the end of the year. The plantation owner has lived extravagantly and always one year behind. Absolutely the only money crop has been cotton,

225 Acre Farm For Sale

Meacham Farm Near Gracey To Be Sold For Division.

The A. W. Meacham farm, one mile northeast of Gracey, is offered for sale for division. It consists of three tracts of land, lying on both sides of the old Bellevue road. Two tracts of 112 and 45 acres lie along side each other on the South side of said road and the other of 68 acres is just across the road, on the North side. A cottage of seven rooms is on the large tract, with large barn, stable and other out-buildings.

A never failing stream of water, known as Meacham's branch, crosses the farm. A portion of the large tract is in timber. The farm is rented for 1915, but partial possession for seeding crops could be given in the fall. For further information apply to hay or grain. In fact most of the plantation owners have bought the grain and hay necessary to feed their work stock. Until 4 years ago there was always money enough in Cotton to enable the plantation owner to live extravagantly, but few of them saved money. They paid up in the fall and then borrowed for the next year's crop. Four years ago the boll weevil made its appearance and destroyed the cotton and then the plantations could not pay up. The negroes could no longer make ends meet. Again the boll weevil destroyed the cotton the next year and then the banks had to call a halt on the loans to the plantations, because cotton was no longer a sure crop. They did not know how to raise anything else, and the bankers would not loan on a crop which had not been raised successfully. When the boll weevil had destroyed three cotton crops in succession the plantation owner was up to his neck in debt and the negroes on the verge of starvation. This put the land on the market at a time when nobody had any money. The European war came on, the bottom dropped out of the price of what cotton the boll weevil did not destroy. The entire country was "hedging" more or less and there was nobody to buy the land, and land was all the plantation owner had to pay his debts and nobody with money to buy the land, and the bankers did not want to operate plantations. This will explain why land is so cheap. Here improved land is more fertile and productive than the best land in South Christian county, can be bought for from $15 to $25 per acre, and timber enough thrown in to pay the purchase price. The timber is very heavy on the uncleared land, as it always is on very rich soil. Timber market has been dead too, so there has been no market for timber. Most of the land will produce profitably two crops per year and it is the finest country for grazing cattle and hogs I ever saw. Both cattle and hogs will get fat enough in the woods for beef and pork and the grazing is almost unlimited. This land is more productive than the land of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio or Michigan, and it is certain that such fertile land cannot remain at from $15 to $25 per acre, while land less productive in these Southern states is selling at from $150 to $250 per acre, or ten times higher than this far more productive land. I predict that in less than 10 years, the poorest of this land will sell for not less than the land now brings in Illinois, Indiana and Michigan, because this land is easier tilled and will produce far more, and naturally it costs less to raise cattle and hogs in this climate than it does in the Northern States. It is certain that this land will be appreciated in the near future and brought up and tilled with grain, hogs, stock, etc. This land under favorable conditions, will average far more corn, oats, peas, clover, timothy, etc., than the highest priced land in any of the Western States. My advice to every man who is cultivating high priced land, is to sell it and buy land here. I have no land for sale and am not in the real estate business, but I know Plantation after Plantations which can be bought for less than its cost to clear them, saying nothing of the improvements.

I will gladly open my house to any man who wants to come here and see for himself. Come down and study the conditions and be your own judge. I could write a volume on the advantages of the rich Delta country, but I want those who will be interested to come and see with their own eyes, because seeing is believing.

Yours truly,

SUBURBAN HOME

To Cost $5,500 Contracted For By E. H. Higgins.

E. H. Higgins has let the contract for a beautiful suburban home on the Russellville pike, just east of the city. It will be on a considerable tract of land lying just beyond Mrs. Blakemore's place, bought by Mr. Higgins several years ago. The contract was let to the Forbes Company for $5,500. The house will be a splendid and commodious home, with all modern improvements.

Fellow Democrats.

I was the first to announce for secretary of state, moved thereto by the laudable ambition to serve the people in an official capacity as I long tried to serve them in private station. I felt too that I possessed the Jeffersonian test for office, knowing that I am capable, hoping that I am worthy and believing that I am honest. For thirty odd years I have as editor of Democratic newspapers and otherwise, helped to fight the battles of the party, without hope or reward, other than that which comes from duty well performed. I have never asked for an office before and do not now because I think the party owes me anything, but because I am sure I can be useful to it, by giving a faithful and honest discharge of the duties of the important one I seek. Most of my opponents either hold or have held office, some beyond their deserts, who are endeavoring to perpetuate themselves in office by making promises and offering offices ten times greater than they would have at their disposal. I have adopted no such tactics, have no friend to reward or enemies to punish, and if nominated will be free to discharge the duties of the office for the good of the public and not for family benefit. I invite the closest scrutiny of my life as a man and as a Democrat and never having wavered in my support of Democratic measures and candidates I confidently ask a careful consideration of my worth and promise if honored to return my charge unsullied and unstained.

Respectfully,
W. P. WALTON.

Phosphorus.

The discovery of phosphorus by Brandt in 1668 was first applied commercially as a means of obtaining fire by Godfrey Haulwitz of London, who in 1860, under the direction of Robert Hoyle, prepared and sold large quantities. It was used for procuring fire by rubbing small particles between the folds of brown paper, and a sulphur match was ignited from the resulting flame; but as phosphorus was both costly and dangerous this invention was not long employed.

Four splendid cloth volumes, full of portraits, sketches, maps, diagrams

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation. Read this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the recent councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom. Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the glory that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades; through the Renaissance up to contemporaneous history, which Prof. Grosvener completes in brilliant manner. In the story of the past lie the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a sane interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "reason why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

Had Duties to Attend To.

The first morning my little brother went to kindergarten he was very good until about ten o'clock, when he got up and started out. The teacher asked where he was going. He replied, "I don't do to get some lunch." Not living very far she let him go. He returned in the afternoon and was very good until about three o'clock, when he started out again. The teacher called him back and said, "Where are you going now?" He answered, "I des I dote take my nap, don't I?"—Chicago Tribune.

WHO'S GOING TO PAY?

Kentucky's State Debt is Now $2,355,167.00—State-Wide Prohibition Will Deprive the State of $700,000.00 a Year—Where Will It Come From?—Political Office Seekers Care Not For State Debts—They Are After the Jobs

A little more than a year ago the County Unit Law was enacted, as the definite policy of both the Democratic and Republican parties in Kentucky. Under its provisions 106 counties now have prohibition as fully as they could have under State-wide prohibition. As a political issue the liquor question was thought to be settled. As a moral issue it was settled in accordance with the wishes of temperance people all over the State. Each county can vote out saloons when the people living in them want to do so.

Some politicians, desiring an exciting issue to aid them in obtaining control of the business and political affairs of the State, resurrected the liquor question, and proclaimed State-wide prohibition the paramount issue. Indirectly, therefore, the question will be voted upon at the primary, to be held August 7, because one of the candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor has made that issue a fundamental part of his political program.

It is well that the voters know and consider some of the facts that vitally affect the welfare of the state, and of themselves as citizens and taxpayers, before voting to tear up our economic system. Many ridiculous and false statements have been made by political prohibitionists, calculated and intended to deceive the voters. But here are facts that no truthful man can deny:

CONDITION OF THE STATE TREASURY

On June 30th, 1915, one month ago, the condition of the State finances was as follows:

Outstanding interest bearing warrants $3,209,589.00
Cash in treasury 554,422.00
Leaving a deficit, or debt, bearing interest 2,355,167.00

The interest on this debt at 5 per cent is $117,758 a year. The debt is growing larger all the time. Both principal and interest are becoming an increasing burden upon the taxpayers.

REVENUES

The entire amount of revenue paid annually by all forms of the liquor business to the State treasury, to the counties and to the cities and towns of Kentucky, is as follows:

State revenue $700,000.00
Revenue to the city of Louisville 631,000.00
Revenue to cities and towns other than Louisville 414,000.00
Revenue to counties from application of the county tax 200,000.00
$1,945,000.00

While only $700,000 of the nearly $2,000,000 derived from the liquor business is paid directly to the State treasury, yet the $1,245,000 paid to the cities, towns and counties of the State are of great financial assistance to them, and in this way undoubtedly promotes the prosperity of the State.

To say nothing of the revenues to cities and counties, if the $700,000 paid by the liquor business direct to the State treasury be thrown away, as will be the case if State-wide prohibition is adopted, the State deficit, or debt, must at once be increased by that amount, making it over $3,000,000 the first year, and this state debt must continue to increase at the rate of more than a million dollars a year unless all other property in the State is taxed sufficiently to pay off the huge accumulated debt and also provide the additional revenue necessary to make up the constant loss and bear at the same time the current running expenses of the State government. Nothing is plainer than that.

No kind of sophistry or soft-soapistry can fool intelligent people in regard to these facts.

FALSE STATEMENTS ANSWERED.

It has been claimed by the political stateswidlers that state-wide prohibition will save the people money by reducing crime, pauperism, and insanity, thereby reducing the cost of criminal prosecutions. Facts and authentic statistics utterly disprove these statements. They point to Kansas as a shining example of prohibition. The following facts, taken from government statistics, prove conclusively that Kansas is not the state-wide paradise it is claimed to be:

Number of PRISONERS per 100,000 population:
Kansas 90.94
Nine license states (average) 73.54
Number of PAUPERS per 100,000 population:
Kansas 43.49
Nine license states (average) 25.42
(These nine states are all agricultural states similar to Kansas.)
Number of INSANE PERSONS per 100,000 population:
Kansas 172.3
Seventeen license states (average) 124.3
Number of DIVORCES per 100,000 population:
Kansas 286
Thirty-one license states (average) 183.5
Number of DIVORCES granted to wives for cruelty per 100,000 population:
Kansas 24.3
Twenty-four license states (average) 14.1

The relative number of savings accounts is often quoted as a basis of comparison as to the prosperity of different states. The report of the Comptroller of the Currency shows that on June 4, 1913, Kansas had 1,148 savings depositories for each 100,000 population. Twenty-seven license states had an average of 9,260 savings depositories per 100,000 population. These twenty-seven states are agricultural states similar to Kansas. So Kansas shows no better than other states in that respect.

DEATH RATE AND DRUNKENNESS.

A few comparative figures from other states may be interesting. North Carolina and Maine, "dry" states, show respectively a death rate of 17.3 and 15.3 per 100,000 population. Nine-

- (1) IF FARM LANDS PAY IT, THE TAX ON FARMS MUST BE INCREASED 50 PER CENT.
- (2) IF LIVE STOCK HAS TO PAY IT, THAT CLASS OF PROPERTY MUST BE TAXED THREE TIMES WHAT IT IS AT PRESENT.
- (3) IF THE MERCHANTS OF THE STATE WERE TO PAY IT THEIR TAXES MUST BE FIVE TIMES WHAT THEY ARE NOW.
- (4) IF RAILROADS ARE TO PAY IT, THEIR ASSESSMENT MUST BE DOUBLED.
- (5) IF MINING PROPERTY IS REQUIRED TO PAY IT, THEIR ASSESSMENT MUST BE MORE THAN 100 TIMES WHAT IT IS NOW.

No one class of property owners will have to bear all this burden of taxation, but it must fall upon each and every taxpayer in the state with more or less severity. Will it pay to listen to the demand of office seeking politicians, who themselves pay little or none of the taxes, but who simply want fat offices, and are using the state-wide prohibition issue as a false campaign cry to get votes for their own advancement and personal profit?

teen license states show a smaller death rate, the average being 12.5 per cent. Memphis, "dry," afforded in 1912 the distressing spectacle of 64 murders per 100,000 population; Milwaukee, "wet," had only 4. Atlanta, "dry," in 1912, had 39 murders per 100,000 population; Philadelphia, "wet," had 2. Chicago, "wet," 3; Topeka, "dry," shows, in 1910, 1 arrest for drunkenness for every 64 residents; Cincinnati, "wet," 1 for every 267 residents. The prohibition state of Maine is constantly referred to as a shining example of the results of state-wide prohibition. In Portland, their chief city, the arrests for drunkenness increased from 1,567, in 1901, to 4,531, in 1912. During that time the population increased 16 per cent, while the arrests for drunkenness increased 300 per cent. So far as Portland is concerned prohibition does not seem to prohibit.

OUR NEIGHBOR STATES.

Right at our doors, Tennessee, with a $12,000,000 state debt, and state-wide prohibition, has had an increase of costs of criminal prosecutions in six years of more than double what it was under the local option license system. The financial condition of Nashville, the capital city, is such that its bankrupt affairs may have to be placed in the hands of a receiver.

It is known to all men that West Virginia, which has had state-wide prohibition for only one year, is practically paralyzed financially for want of money to pay the current expenses of the state. During the same time the number of prisoners in the Charleston jail, in the capital city of the state, increased from 39, on May 1, 1914, to 92, on May 1, 1915. This, too, disproves that state prohibition saves costs of criminal prosecutions.

BESIDES THE ABOVE FACTS, THOUGHTFUL MEN MUST NOT FORGET THAT STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION WILL WIPE OUT $6,500,000 PAID ANNUALLY BY KENTUCKY DISTILLERS FOR GRAIN; THAT $2,200,000 PAID ANNUALLY AS WAGES WILL CEASE TO BE PAID; THAT $2,405,000 NOW PAID ANNUALLY FOR COAL AND BARRLS WILL NO LONGER BE EXPENDED; THAT THREE-QUARTERS OF A MILLION DOLLARS ANNUALLY PAID IN INTEREST BY DISTILLERS AND BREWERS TO KENTUCKY BANKS WOULD NO LONGER BE ADDED TO THEIR EARNINGS, AND THAT $60,000,000 BROUGHT INTO KENTUCKY ANNUALLY FROM OUTSIDE THE STATE WILL CEASE TO FLOW INTO OUR BUSINESS CHANNELS.

Ninety-five per cent of the product of Kentucky distillers is shipped out of the state, bringing into our business life a constant stream of foreign money.

Practical men, knowing that nothing can be gained for temperance, morally or economy, are determined to stand by the present system of local county self government, and not destroy or drive from the state the countless millions of tax-paying capital and property that now constitutes one of the state's chief industrial assets. To encourage a policy of confiscation and destruction of state revenues, by nominating candidates pledged to such a program, means to the taxpayer nothing more nor less than the following necessary shifting of the tax burden:

Puzzled Uncle Pash.

From the time the coal and iron territory round about Jenkins was opened up and the town began to form itself out of the construction and prospecting camps, P. C. Dix, secretary of the state executive committee of the Young Men's Christian association, took a deep interest in its development and spent much time there assisting in the formation of a strong and active branch of the association. One story he tells is of an aged mountaineer, who, after the railroad trains had begun running regularly ventured down to see for himself some of the wonders of which he had vaguely heard. He stood on the rude platform and watched the train pull in. After a few minutes it backed up a little way. "What d'ye think uv her, Uncle Pash?" asked one of the loungers. "Wal, I kin see how th' ingyne moult pull them thar kyars," said the old man, thoughtfully, "but what gits me is how them kyars pulls th' ingyne."—Louisville Times.

Hair-Raising Tale.

This is a bald and convincing narrative, not to say a hair-raising tale. All of Broadway who have brows so high that they reach over to the back of the neck are considering taking up music lessons, and the front rows of music shows have been over-subscribed by men who have come out from under their natural shelter. It's all because a doctor has announced that the peace and tranquillity and the joy of music are what make musicians' hair grow long and prevent them from becoming bald-headed. When you come to think of it musicians are long-haired. That there are plenty of men in this city who believe in the efficiency of music having charms to lure forth the shy, violet-like hair is shown by the number of glistening domes seen in the so-called "bald-headed rows" of every theater featuring a musical show. Watch one of these roof gardens at some particular musical show and it is possible you may be able to see a hair sprout and flower before your very eyes.—New York Times.

McChesney's Work In Reducing Kentucky's Income And Saving For the Corporations the Money That Would Have Gone Into the State Treasury.

THE McCHESNEY PLAN TO REDUCE KENTUCKY REVENUE.

ARRAIGNS McCHESNEY AS A LOBBYIST

Extracts From His Reply to an Attack By H. V. McChesney, In His Georgetown Speech.

LOBBYISTS WHO PLACE THE HEAVY HAND OF TAXATION UPON YOU.

But there are men who make it their business to seduce these representatives from the paths of justice; there are men who make it their duty to ensnare and debauch them, or who have it in their power to place the heavy hand of taxation upon you, and when they do, they commit a crime not against one man or against one woman, but against the whole people, three millions of men and women.

He who thus offends against society in time of peace is called a lobbyist, and Harry McChesney is a professional lobbyist and has been for years.

And I have the proof of it!

Here is a letter written by him to a public service corporation.

He says he is a lawyer and that I am just as bad as he is because I defended the Terre Haute criminals for a fee of ten thousand dollars. He said that I took a bad case for ten thousand dollars, (even twenty dollars catches him.)

But to proceed, I have defended many a man for murder, but I have never yet helped to commit one.

This man, Mr. McChesney, does not defend men for violating the law, but he offers to show them how to violate or evade it.

You see the difference!

And he writes to a number of corporations, perhaps a hundred of them, that the legislature is contemplating a sweeping change in the taxing system; in other words, preparing probably to take some of the burden off of land and labor and put it upon accumulated wealth.

Did he write to the people anything about that? Oh, no.

Now, listen, he says:

"I will keep the companies I represent informed all along as to the progress of this matter, so that if it should take a turn which they regard as prejudicial to their interests, they may take such concerted action as they deem proper for their protection."

They may take such concerted action as they may deem proper for their protection!

Do you know what that means?

How do telegraph and telephone companies, how do traction and

KENTUCKY W. C. T. U. AGAINST McCHESNEY

Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp, President Of The State W. C. T. U. Says:

"There were at the beginning of the campaign hundreds of voters who were for McChesney until it became known that he was the candidate for the machine. Since that fact became generally known, there has been a revulsion of feeling and a surprisingly large number of dry votes will go to Stanley as a protest against the prohibition fight being fought with such instruments as the machine provides.

"I believe that Mr. Stanley will be nominated and that the protesting prohibition voters will be the number of his majority."

railroad companies, take such concerted action as they deem proper for their protection before a Legislature?

Why, they meet in a back room and they put up the money necessary to secure some smooth lobbyist who proceeds to "fix" the Legislature, and you know that is the way "corporations take such concerted action before legislatures as they deem proper for their protection."

And he was warning them in time that he would be there handy, servile and faithful as a pointer dog, in indicating just what men his abler ally should approach.

Woodrow Wilson turned on the light—no wonder he never calls the name of Woodrow Wilson.

I fancied that there were men, who, to hear the rustle of silk and damask, to dwell in marble halls, to ride in costly limousines, noiseless as an Elgin watch and swift as an eagle's wing, that they might forget the admonition of the Nazarene when he said, "What shall it profit a man if he should gain the world and lose his own soul?"

Or, "What shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

I have fancied that there were men who tamper with legislatures and betray a whole state for the lure of enormous wealth, but I never dreamed that God ever made a man that would write a sentence like this: "I will look after all franchise matters for you to December 31, 1910, and give you the special service this winter also, for a fee of twenty dollars!"

Twenty dollars!

Ah, these corporate parasites these creatures who fatten upon the sweat and toil and brawn of honest men.

Millions and millions of money that this man lifted from corporate wealth, from special privilege and dropped the whole intolerable burden upon the very people whom he now asks to make him the chief magistrate of Kentucky because he is a Prohibitionist!

STANLEY MAKES GREAT SPEECH AT LAWRENCEBURG

Stanley Stands With Woodrow Wilson for "Local Option"—McChesney Stands Against Woodrow Wilson.

Stanley spoke for two hours and the applause which greeted him at the end of his speech showed that the audience would have liked for him to continue indefinitely.

Anderson County will give Stanley between 400 and 500 majority. It was one of the most representatives Anderson County audiences that ever listened to a public speaker in Lawrenceburg.

Stanley declared that he stood upon the Democratic platform while McChesney was fighting against it.

That he stood upon the principles of Thomas Jefferson, Jackson, Monroe and Woodrow Wilson, while McChesney stood upon the principles of O'Rear, Dr. Palmer and Caleb Powers.

Stanley created a sensation when he declared that McChesney had written letters to various big corporations offering his services as a lobbyist before the Kentucky Legislature.

He further read from a declaration of the Anti-Saloon League officially stating that it would oppose Woodrow Wilson for reelection.

"Mr. Harry McChesney stands with the Anti-Saloon League against President Wilson.

"Stands with the State Machine against the Democratic platform. Stands with Caleb Powers, a Kentucky Republican, and Dr. Palmer, a Michigan Republican, against the Democratic party of Kentucky.

"Yet he is appealing to Democrats of this State for support in a Democratic Primary, and the only argument he has to give to offset all this self-condemnation is 'Oh, how dry I am.'"

Stanley referred to the shaft standing in front of the Court House on which is inscribed the names of the Confederate soldiers from Anderson County.

He declared that among these names was the beloved name of his own father.

He told in eloquent words how these men had marched forth in the name of personal liberty, 7,000 strong, while only a few hundred of them returned.

He asked his audience for what purpose they had gone forth to battle if it were not for local self-government, the principle which had been written in the Democratic party by Thomas Jefferson, "The Sage of Monticello," and which has been enunciated by Woodrow Wilson, the greatest living Democrat.

He read the Shannon letter to show that President Wilson declared himself in favor of local option, and to show that the President had taken the position that the liquor issue was a social and moral question, and should not be injected into politics as Mr. McChesney had injected it.

He scored Mr. McChesney for misrepresenting the President's views on the liquor question as an insult to the President, for which Mr. McChesney must be held responsible.—Advertisement.
